THE SIOUX GIVING IN.

Hollow Horn Bear and Yellow Hair Sign the Treaty.

ROSENBERG AGENCY, S. D., June 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—After the council last evening, Hollow Horn Bear and Yellow Hair, the two chiefs who from the first fighting the bill, and who, being natural born orators have created much opposition to it, finally changed their views and signed it, they were immediately followed by a number of their followers.

After the evening's ride was over Miss Williams said she felt much better, and by this evening she expects to be in as good condition as she ever was.

The Salt Lake Races.

SALT LAKE, Utah, June 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The wrangle over the ownership of the rival resorts, 1, Pitkin and 2, Gardner, has resulted in O'Connor and Lee rowing at Lake Park and Parson and Hamm at Gardiner. Owing to rough weather, it was impossible on either Saturday or Sunday to do fine work.

COUNCILMAN SANDER RETURNS.

He Relates His Experience in the Conemaugh Valley.

Councilman Sander arrived home from New York last evening, accompanied by his son Albert, who has been attending school at Stuttgart, Mr. Sander was received with warm arms by his family, who were greatly rejoiced at his escape from the Johnstown disaster.

Mr. Sander was found to be very communicative, and the details observed by him were vividly impressed upon his memory.

The train on which he was traveling together with three other men was stopped at Conemaugh, a small town a few miles up the river from Johnstown.

The government will not only fill that treaty, but adds to it by making it more complete than the one of 1865.

Hollow Horn Bear and Yellow Hair asked a number of questions, but were not satisfied with the answers received.

CRONIN'S MURDERERS.

Luke Dillon Says They Will Be in Custody Soon.

CHICAGO, July 10.—Luke Dillon is responsible for the statement that a prominent Irishman will be arrested in New York in connection with the Cronin murder.

Nothing of an interesting character was developed at to-day's session of the Cronin jury of inquest.

Mr. Sander thinks the fishing club, which owned the artificial lake, were not entirely blameless as they took every precaution to warn the residents of the lake.

Opening of the District Court.

BEATRICE, Neb., June 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The June term of the district court of Gage county, for the first judicial district, began to-day, Judge Broady presiding. The day was principally occupied in the trial of the case of John L. Fryer, who was arrested on Wednesday, June 19. The criminal docket will be called to-morrow, and the prisoners arraigned for pleading, and it is probable that the court will take a recess, Wednesday, over until the 19th.

A Nebraska's Bereavement.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., June 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—John E. Phillips left for Johnston on Friday last, for the purpose of waiting on the telegraph in dread and suspense for news of his people who lived in Johnston. His worst fears have been realized. Harry, a lad, was the only one of his family saved. His mother, brothers, and two sisters, with their husbands and children, twelve out of thirteen, perished in the flood. The remains of five of the twelve have been found and identified.

Opposing Court House Bonds.

BEATRICE, Neb., June 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Considerable anxiety is manifested by the friends of the $100,000 Gage county court house bonds proposition, who fear that the friends of Otto Leitz, of the Leitz schmidt, born at Stockholm, October 6, 1829; died at Wyand Pot, Malvern, November 2, 1887. There is no other word than these. The good loving hands had been the great joy of my life. I visited in a rural retreat, interested in violets and daffodils. It is a calm resting place that the diva lies in—a lovely spot nesting at the foot of the Malvern Hills.

All the claims against the company for deaths and injuries received at that wreck have been settled.

Creston Wants Water Works.

CRESTON, Ia., June 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The water works fever is now taking the town to its very foundation. One or two franchises have already been given, and the contractors have proved themselves deficient and the works a grand failure. The limit for the last franchise has just expired; several companies have been on the ground, and express a willingness to take the contract, and the works a grand failure.

Destructive Storm in New York.

UTICA, N. Y., June 10.—Word was received this morning that a terrific wind storm passed through Port Leyden, Lewis county, and the lower portion of Jefferson county yesterday afternoon, overturning trees, fences and buildings and doing much damage. One house was picked up and carried about one hundred feet, an old gentleman and lady living therein being injured. The wires are all down and particulars cannot be obtained.

Reports which came in later bring news of greater destruction of property in Lewis and Jefferson counties. The destruction to the crops, fences and orchards is said to be very large. In Port Leyden the buildings and sheds of the iron works are totally demolished. Scarcely a chimney is to be seen in Port Leyden, and the streets are almost impassable because of the debris. THE BLUE GRASS PALACE.

CRESTON, Ia., June 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—An architect named King, of Omaha, who, for the past few weeks, has been consulting with the committee on the erection of the most talked of "Blue Grass Palace" to be erected on the fair grounds in this city at fair time, has plans for its erection, and they are now being examined by our board of trade men. The palace will be a most magnificent structure. It is perfectly round, 100 feet in diameter, and contains a floor space of 7,000 feet. In the center is a large court, 60x60, with an elevated band stand in the center. Around the outer circle are booths to be occupied by the different counties in the Blue Grass league, and such other apartments as will be convenient to display the different products of southwestern Iowa. In some of the booths are to be mounted round houses, only it is surmounted by clusters of spires, cables, etc., that serve to make the architect's effect beautiful. Two entrances, directly opposite each other, will be lavishly decorated with spires and flag staffs. Numerous flags of different nations will float from the various spires and flag staffs over the entire structure. The cost is estimated at from $25,000 to $30,000. President J. H. Harsh has received 10,000 names of Iowa, throughout the Blue Grass region, plainly outlined by a red border, which will be used as a means of advertising.

Circus People in Trouble.

FR. DODGE, Ia., June 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Sheriff Zenor, of Boone county, arrested W. H. Mellon, a painter of Boone, and Ethel Gray, a fallen woman of the same city, in this city this afternoon for leaving Miss A. C. Marshall, seventy-one years of age, daughter of a prominent and wealthy coal operator, from her home, Monday morning, June 7, at 11 o'clock, to leave her home for an exciting life in the sawdust ring, with a circus, attached for the purpose of her support. The woman is a sensation, because of Miss Marshall's social prominence. The guilty parties will be taken to Boone to-morrow.

A Murderous Pauper.

DES MOINES, June 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Henry McCarter, postmaster at Green Center, a village in the southwest corner of Boone county, was shot by a man named Hodge yesterday morning, and lies at the point of death. Hodge is a county convict, who was angry because McCarter had not secured for him his money allowance from the county. The constable and a posse of men tried to arrest Hodge, but he locked himself in his room, refusing to open the door, the officers shot through the door and killed him.

The Muddy Missouri Rising.

YANKTON, Dak., June 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—In the lower part of the river, between the mouth of the Rhine and the mouth of the Missouri, a man named Hodge is cutting most vigorously.
